LATEST REPORTS INDICATE GERMAN LOSSES HEAVIER IN NORTH SEA BATTLE

Hindenburg, Lutzow and Seydlitz Are Declared to Have Been Sunk-Germans Still Claim That Victory Was on Their Side.

LONDON, June 5.-British officers of the fleet which participated in the Jutland battle who have returned here identify two German battleships sunk as the Hindenburg and the Lutzow.

The Admiralty stated last night that the Germans had suffered heavier losses than were first reported, but did not mention the names of the selling the City Island and the New duty. Early this morning 15,000 additional big ships that had been sunk.

(Special Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.) CHICAGO, June 5 .- All political lines remained unchanged to-day, with every candidate and every faction standing defiantly in the same position it occupied yesterday and the day before. An all night of fighting through hotel corridors and in conference rooms took on similarity to Verdun operations, with political assaults, charges, poisonous gases and hand grenades.

The Oyster Bay telephone wire hummed for two hours this morning, bringing orders to brace lines and stop all wavering. When the Progressive National Committee met at 11 o'clock, George Perkins and William Hamlin Childs delivered the orders.
